DEPARTMENT OF HIGHER EDUCATION & WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

The Missouri Department of Higher Education & Workforce Development (MDHEWD) is working to empower every Missourian with the skills and education needed for success. We appreciate the partnership of school counselors, financial aid professionals, and college access organizations to help us achieve this vision. We hope the information in this handout will help you learn more about our programs and we invite you to join us in this work by participating in Journey to College.

WHAT IS Journey to College?

Journey to College, created by MDHEWD, works to increase college access and affordability to help Missouri students plan for the future. Increasing access to college is an important part of Missouri's big goal to be the best in the Midwest in educational attainment and workforce participation.

Journey to College includes outreach programs, publications, a student-centered website, social media, and presentations. Participation in these programs promotes a more equitable experience for all of Missouri's high school students by providing a framework all schools can implement. The events and activities are unique to each school but the information and opportunities provided are the same for every student.

WHY?

- 1 Find tools, information, and support for college and career programming you're already providing to your students. We know you're doing this important work and we're here to help.
- 2 Gain access to free promotional items and publications that you can share with students and families. MDHEWD is a one-stop shop for free resources – you order it and we ship it.
- 3 Receive free professional development by attending the annual Journey to College Day workshop offered every summer. Join counselors from around the state to network, share best practices, and receive state and federal financial aid updates.
